

Nyxio Technologies Corporation (otc pink:NYXO) (pinksheets:NYXO) ("Nyxio" or the "Company"), manufacturer of cutting edge Genius TVs, consumer electronics devices and developer of interactive software has announced they will be revealing their most recent developments with investors and shareholders on a video conference call, scheduled for October 15th, 2014.

During the call Nyxio CEO, Giorgio Johnson intends to give updates on the current status of the company; covering topics such as recent acquisitions, future acquisitions, corporate expansions and reorganization. Included in the presentation will be a showcase of the company's new User interface and software from their newly acquired company, 212 Decibel. The intent of this conference call is to give shareholders a glimpse into the future of Nyxio's software goals.

'Nyxio's development process has long been to change the way we interact with technology through convergence and user experiences. The next phase of our expansion demonstrates this tremendous goal in a simple, easy to understand manner via new software developments. I am elated to finally be able to demonstrate to our shareholders and investors the future of convergence.' said CEO Giorgio Johnson.

A formidable presence appears to be shaping up for the company who's goals aim toward having a foothold across the media realm from software and entertainment development to delivering multiple forms of media via one spectacular source, the VioSphere Genius TV.

About Nyxio Technologies (otc pink:NYXO)

Founded in 2007, Nyxio(r) Technologies Corporation (otc pink:NYXO) designs and markets a line of innovative consumer electronics devices to deliver high-quality, cutting-edge products to consumers and businesses. The company is known for its innovative products that offer distinctive features such as touch screen controls, built-in Bluetooth capabilities, wireless and video features all bundled into practical and inventive packages. Initially, the company introduced Vuzion, the first Android OS television and the VioSphere, an integrated flat screen Smart TV and full PC. Other products currently available include the Realm, an all-in-one PC/TV, the Realm Pro, digital signage and B2B solution and the Venture Mobile Media Viewers (MMV), a new class of video eye-wear. Most recently, the VioSphere Genius TV was added to the roster, which boasts a new set of features - taking the VioSphere line to a new level. By consolidating key hardware into more efficient devices, Nyxio not only reduces the overall environmental footprint of end users, but also keeps products reasonably priced.
